FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

New York City College of Technology of the City University of New York (CUNY), a comprehensive college offering associate and bachelor's degree programs in downtown Brooklyn, invites applications for a full-time assistant professor position in the Department of Hospitality Management, to begin in the Fall 2025 semester.

The Department of Hospitality Management is recognized internationally as a premier hospitality management program. The department is accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Programs in Hospitality Administration (ACPHA) and offers both associate and bachelor's degrees.

Candidates should have a history of professional senior managerial experience in hotels and/or resorts, with a focus on revenue management and operations.

This is a full-time, tenure-track position. Faculty members are expected to be committed to excellence in teaching, scholarly research resulting in publications, presentations and/or other creative products; and sustained service to the Hospitality Management Department, the School of Professional Studies, the College and the University, in service of their missions. The position offers an opportunity to develop curriculum and pedagogy, engage with students, and contribute to the vitality of a dynamic and highly regarded department.

Reporting to the Chair of the Department of Hospitality Management, duties include but are not limited to:

- Teaching both required and elective courses from the diverse offerings of the Department of Hospitality Management. Courses may be scheduled days, evenings or Saturdays.
- Working collaboratively on Department/College/University-wide initiatives and projects.
- Playing an active role in the creation, development, and assessment of curricula and pedagogy.
- Contributing to department and college-wide accreditation efforts.
- Advising and mentoring students.
- Maintaining industry contacts in order to stay abreast in the field and support student internships.
- Participating in professional growth in the field on a continual basis.
- Contributing to scholarship in higher education or in hospitality-related fields.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of experience or equivalent (master's degree in a relevant field and appropriate professional experience in revenue and financial management in hotel and lodging operations). Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- A minimum of 5 years of post-degree employment in revenue and financial management within hotel and lodging operations is highly preferred.
- Strong background in strategic planning and workforce and leadership development.
- Prior teaching experience in a higher education setting.
- Knowledge of higher education assessment and accreditation processes.

COMPENSATION

$80,061 - $98,806 (effective 09/01/2025 - $82,663 - $102,017). Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.
